Product, Asbestos & Toxic Tort Liability

Our Product Liability attorneys have successfully built a reputation for expertly handling complex product liability, asbestos defense, and toxic tort litigation.

We have experience in handling motor vehicle, medical device, pharmaceutical, home products, manufacturing equipment, juvenile products, aircraft litigation and asbestos and other toxic products. These cases often involve multiple plaintiffs and defendants; complex engineering and design concepts and complex federal, state and international procedure.

Many of our product and toxic tort cases fall in the category of asbestos defense. Our asbestos defense team is comprised of a diverse group of highly skilled and trial-ready litigators who have defended asbestos cases in some of the nation's toughest jurisdictions for over three decades. Our team represents a wide spectrum of defendants and caters the handling of cases to the specific needs of each client.
