Riley Atwood is a resourceful problem solver, advising businesses on complex matters such as mergers and acquisitions, real estate transactions, and startup ventures. Recognized for his attention to detail and commitment to his clients, Riley has become a reliable and trusted legal advisor for both local and national clients.

After becoming an attorney, Riley honed his legal skills as a law clerk for the Missouri Court of Appeals, where he gained valuable experience in legal research, analysis, and writing. Riley's clerkship experience has proven instrumental in his transactional work, providing him with an enhanced understanding of how legal decisions can impact businesses.

Following his tenure at the Missouri Court of Appeals, Riley joined Sandberg Phoenix, where he has been diligently applying his skills as a transactional attorney. During his time at the firm, he has successfully represented clients in numerous deals both large and small, with some transaction values exceeding $100 million. His broad experience allows him to help clients navigate the intricate world of business law.

Riley's dedication to small businesses is rooted in his personal life, as his wife owns a successful small business in Bethalto, Illinois. This connection has given him insight into the unique challenges faced by small business owners and has fueled his passion for assisting entrepreneurs. He works closely with clients, offering tailored guidance and support to help them achieve their goals.

In addition to his legal work, Riley is a dedicated member of his community, and volunteers his time with several local organizations. He is passionate about giving back and making a positive impact in the lives of others.

If you are seeking an experienced attorney to help you navigate the complexities of mergers and acquisitions, startup ventures, or real estate deals, please contact him today to schedule a consultation.
