

INDUSTRIES

Recreational Products

Recreational products carry significant risks for manufactures and distributors due to their applications and the manner in which they are operated by users.

Our team has significant experience in representing numerous manufacturers located throughout North America, Europe and Asia in product liability cases involving products such as ATVs, personal watercraft, experimental aircraft, snowmobiles, racecars, pool slides, bike helmets and bicycles.