

Jim Keller joined Sandberg Phoenix in 2018 as counsel. He concentrates his practice on complex litigation, construction, alternative dispute resolution (ADR) and real estate.

He has tried more than 100 civil jury and bench cases in state and federal courts and in arbitration, lasting from one day to nine months. Jim has briefed and argued more than fifteen cases before various state and federal appellate courts. He also applies his trial experience as an arbitrator, mediator and neutral evaluator with the American Arbitration Association (AAA) and in handling private disputes. He is a member of AAA's Construction Arbitrator Master Panel (top 100 in country), Large Complex Case Panel and a member of AAA's newly created Appellate Panel. Jim has been an arbitrator in more than 140 cases involving construction and business disputes and a mediator in more than 60 such cases. He has served as the Privilege Master in several large arbitrations to review documents (in excess of 100,000 documents) for privilege issues and to resolve disputes over document production. He has negotiated and drafted complex construction contracts for various electric utility companies on both national and international matters involving power plants, as well as contracts to create alliances between utility companies and large general contractors for environmental update work exceeding $1,000,000,000.

Jim has written more than 100 articles for various bar journals and trade publications on ADR, construction law, real estate, consumer fraud and trial practice. He is the author of Arbitration and Mediation (MoBar 2011) and Home/Land Owners Experience Bumpy Legal Road Since 2009, appearing in The St. Louis Bar Journal, Spring 2011. He also writes the legal column for the St. Louis Construction News and Review.

He is listed as a Super Lawyer in Missouri and Kansas from 2006 to present for Construction Litigation, the Super Lawyers Corporate Counsel Edition from 2008 to present and the Super Lawyers 2012 Business Edition.

Background

Jim earned his Bachelor of Journalism from the University of Missouri with Phi Kappa Phi and Kappa Tau Alpha honors. He then went on to earn his Juris Doctor from Washington University School of Law where he was Managing Editor of the Law Review: Urban Law Annual.

He is licensed to practice in the states of Missouri and Illinois and before the U.S. District Court Western District of Missouri, the U.S. District Court Eastern District of Missouri, the U.S. District Court Southern District of Illinois and the U.S. Court of Appeals 8th Circuit.
