Sandberg Phoenix is expanding again. The firm opened a 3,000 square foot office in the heart of St. Charles.

The office, located at 132 Jefferson Street, is blocks away from the courthouse, and will be staffed by Sandberg Phoenix's most recent hires, Shareholder Tim Huff and Attorney Anna Lavigne. The move allows the firm to enhance its service platform to better assist clients while also supporting the firm's current and future talent.

Huff practices primarily in the areas of real estate and real estate transactions, business law, banking, probate, trusts and estates, landlord tenant law, leasing and school law. Tim represents small and medium business, individuals, banks, developers and property owners, along with commercial and residential landlords.

Lavigne will work as an attorney in the firm's Business Practice Group.

CEO and Managing Partner, Bhavik Patel commented, "We are excited to welcome Tim and Anna. Tim's commitment to clients and reputation aligns closely with the values of Sandberg Phoenix and I am confident he will grow our presence in St. Charles. The office allows us the opportunity to hire additional attorneys in the St. Charles area, as well as increase our capacity for new and existing clients."

The St. Charles office is the eighth office for Sandberg Phoenix.
