

SERVICES

Labor & Employment Counseling

Our Employment Law team provides counseling on labor and employment issues to employers including a full spectrum of proactive labor and employment legal services that are designed to maximize our clients' ability to focus on sustaining and growing their businesses.

Such services include counseling on statutory and regulatory compliance, advising human resource (HR) professionals on personnel decisions, assisting clients in drafting and implementing employment policies and employee handbooks and drafting restrictive covenants.

We also provide our clients in-house training on a variety of matters so that HR professionals and company managers understand how to apply their policies and procedures lawfully and efficiently.