

INDUSTRIES

Insurance Agents & Brokers

Our experienced attorneys are often retained by insurance companies to represent the interests of insurance agents and brokers.

The professional reputations of insurance agents and brokers are frequently placed at risk by former clients who regret the well-informed decisions they made with regard to limits and coverages. Such claims generally arise in connection with allegations the agent or broker failed to procure insurance, made negligent misrepresentations or provided negligent advice regarding appropriate limits or coverages.